

Commemorating the centenary of the outbreak of the First World War

Including:

- ✿ Find out about the stories of Essex people and places during the War from archives of the Essex Record Office
- ✿ Find out about Hylands' history as a military hospital for wounded soldiers
- ✿ Seek advice on researching your First World War ancestors
- ✿ Find out how men were recruited for the army with professional live interpreters
- ✿ First World War re-enactors
- ✿ Short talks from experts on a range of aspects of life in Essex during the War, including women in the workplace and wartime hospitals in Essex
- ✿ Children's activities

Sunday 14 September, 10am-4pm (last entry 3pm)

Hylands House, London Road, Chelmsford, CM2 8WQ

For more details see: www.essexrecordofficeblog.co.uk/wwi

Now the Last Poppy has Fallen

Now the Last Poppy has Fallen is a project which focuses on the lives of individuals, families and communities in Essex during the First World War.

Launch of touring exhibition at 12.45pm, followed by original poems from Luke Wright and songs from Georgia Strand.

More details can be found on the project blog: lastpoppyproject.wordpress.com